Elder Law Attorney Amy B. Van Fossen - has a background in financial planning and is a business owner. Lawyer Amy B. Van Fossen draws on her financial acuity and business acumen to craft solid legal solutions, tailored specifically to effectuate the goals of each client. Her comprehensive approach to elder law matters includes knowledgeable Medicaid planning guidance for seniors to ensure that long-term care planning takes into account the quality of care and quality of life concerns for family peace of mind.

Elizabeth Oros - As an Edward Jones financial advisor, Elizabeth works closely with clients, their CPA's, attorneys and other professionals, to help determine the most appropriate financial strategy. She joined Edward Jones as a financial advisor in 2008, and became a limited partner with the firm in 2015. Her business has grown so large that she has invited another financial advisor to help better serve clients.
